Study

Based on similar properties in the area, in my opinion, this house could rent for approximately $680 - $700 per week in today's current rental market.

No third person or third party shall have recourse against the report or Monarch Realty Ltd in respect of any incorrect information contained in this report or the opinion of the reporter. This report is that of a rental property manager relying on available information and personal experience in order to establish a fair market rental only and should not be taken to be a registered valuation.
